

A-dec Accelerate Login Instructions for A-dec Accounts

To access A-dec Accelerate, A-dec's dealer training site, go to <https://a-dec.com/training> to be directed to the A-dec Accelerate homepage.

Notes: If your computer is storing previous data and not directing you to the current site, you will need to clear your browser history. To learn how to clear the browser history on your web browser, type "Clear cache" in your browser's search tab for instructions specific to your preferred web browser.

If you are logged to the VPN or domain, you may have trouble accessing the link above. If that happens, try <https://us.a-dec.com/training> or www.a-dec.com/training while logged on to the domain.

Select the Sign in link in the top right corner to access the log in page.

A-dec Employees and some dealer accounts will be able to login using the A-dec Login button. If your A-dec or dealer account is integrated with our user data for accessing Partner Resources or eGain, you will be able to directly login to A-dec Accelerate by selecting the A-dec Login button.

A screenshot of the A-dec Accelerate Sign in page. The page has a "Sign in" header. Below it is a button labeled "A-dec Login" with a red box around it. There are fields for "Username" and "Password". Below the password field is a "Remember username" checkbox and a "Trouble signing in?" link. At the bottom is a "Sign in" button and a note about cookies. There are also links for "Don't have an account?" and "Create an account".

You might be prompted to sign in to your Microsoft account after selecting the A-dec Login button.
